AAWS GUIDELINES FOR NEWSLETTERS:

"Newsletters or bulletins published by central offices may include not only office news and events, but similar information about the groups and committees served by these offices (such as meeting times, openings of new groups, or changes of group meeting locations or officers). Frequently, material from A.A. literature is reprinted and discussed, and articles on subjects of interest to A.A.s are also published. Experience indicates that, as in most A.A. service activities, it is prudent to make a committee (rather than one or two individuals) responsible for the format, planning and content of the bulletin."

Public Information and Cooperation with the Professional Community is a sub-committee of General Service, District 12, Sonoma County. We are the public face and voice of Alcoholics Anonymous. We need recovering alcoholics to share their experience, strength, and hope in public venues. Currently, we make presentations at the local drunk driving program and local schools (middle school - high schools). We've also made presentations to veterans' groups, senior communities, and the local members of the medical community (doctors, nurses, and social workers). Additionally, we work with and provide information about AA to law enforcement agencies, the courts, and senior living communities, psychiatric emergency services, and any other public group that might request it. These organizations offer us the opportunity to provide a speaker to help them better understand what A.A. is (and isn't), where their students, clients, or patients might find out more information, and where and when to find meetings.

Denise A-P, PI/CPC Committee Shares:

“We do not, cannot outgrow this plan.”

I read in Alcoholics Anonymous today on page 275 that “A.A. is not a plan for recovery that can be finished and done with.” and “We do not, cannot outgrow this plan.” So, I know the real plan for my continuing recovery must involve ongoing service work. My service work experiences have varied over the years. I've done everything from cleaning toilets, setting up chairs, cooking for events, and more. What has not changed is the sense of appreciation for what service work strangely accomplishes for those in the program and those outside of the program who are still suffering.

I invite you to learn more about the PI/CPC Committee, where I currently serve as the literature distribution lead, and about committee opportunities that you might find interesting. Of course, I want you to join me in delivering literature around Sonoma County.* LOL! But, there are many ways to get involved to match your skills and/or comfort level.

How can you do this? Please join us on Zoom for our monthly meeting, which takes place on the 2nd Wednesday of every month at 7:30 p.m. Committee information and the meeting details are here: <https://www.sonomacountyaa.org/get-into-service/picpc/>. You are also welcome to email us at picpc@sonomacountyaa.org with your contact information.

Check us out, won't you?

Denise A-P

*We currently have several areas that need delivery support.

Bridging the Gap

Statement of Purpose

Bridging the Gap is a General Service sub-committee that supports that very important first step for alcoholics who have just been released from a hospital, treatment center or correctional facility. By providing a temporary contact, Bridging the Gap helps newcomers make the transition to Alcoholics Anonymous in his or her home community.

Members of Alcoholics Anonymous, usually in pairs, meet the patients or inmates after release and accompany them to their first A.A. meeting. As in all 12-step work, this activity is strictly voluntary.

We are always looking for volunteers to fill our phone list. We try to have a volunteer available who is someone around their age and gender, who lives in their neighborhood, who can meet them at the volunteer's home group, introduce them to the fellowship and make them feel welcome and at home. It is usually a one-time commitment, and as in all 12-step work, should be done in pairs. To be a volunteer, it is suggested that you have at least 6 months sobriety and a working knowledge of the twelve steps.

Bridging the Gap meets on the 3rd Tuesday of the month at 6pm

4 Favorite A.A. Slogans for the Holidays

Easy Does It

Happiness is not a race, and neither is recovery. In fact, any attempts to hack or crack them are likely to have the opposite effect. Happiness is achieved not in its reckless pursuit, but as a complement to other sensations and feelings of fulfillment. Recovery is much the same way, and you will get nowhere fast by attempting to speed-run it.

Go easy. Take time for yourself and your recovery. Be present and mindful, and find a physical or mental space from which you draw calm energy. You are on a long journey toward happiness and fulfillment; you have to go easy or you will never get there.

First Things First

Some priorities change over time, but your sobriety should always come first. This holiday season, you might be especially tempted to move your priorities around, preferring to nail down the shopping list or hang out with family. That's completely fine, but your recovery must still come first. Remember, "Whatever you put before your sobriety, you are likely to lose."

If you want to balance all your priorities and have a good sober holiday, come prepared with a list of self-care techniques that help you re-invest in long-term sobriety. Then practice them, no matter the cost, on a regular schedule and whenever you feel the need.

Live and Let Live

What a great reminder that we all do things differently, and that's okay. Maybe your uncle drives you nuts, or maybe your parents have holiday expectations or traditions that send you up a wall. Live and let live. Everyone has their own set of priorities, and everyone attempts to fulfill their needs differently. There's nothing wrong with that, so long as your sobriety isn't in danger.

Set boundaries whenever necessary, then tend to your own garden and let others tend to theirs. You should be all the calmer for it.

Keep Coming Back

Family conflict and holiday stress can produce some uncomfortable emotions, causing old patterns to bubble up from beneath the surface. If you feel self-pity, fear or resentment creeping up, hit a meeting. You don't have to face those feelings alone. In fact, the halls of AA and other support groups will be filled with familiar faces, and plenty of recovering addicts and alcoholics* will be navigating the holidays together.

Keep coming back. You can count on your community to have your back, to love you unconditionally and to help you get through the holidays relatively unscathed.
